Dear Admiral Hillenkoetter:

Thank you for your kind letter.

I expect to get to Washington Wednesday next between 3:45 and 4 p.m. If for any reason it should not prove convenient for you to see me that afternoon, may I ask that you be so good as to have your secretary telephone me or wire collect to that effect. In other words, in the absence of any such message, I shall assume that you will have a few moments for me at the time indicated.

Sincerely yours,

/s/
